Office hours: Wednesdays 10:30-11:30am Yon Hall Room 436 or by Zoom appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course covers selected musical cultures from Latin America and the Caribbean in the 20th and 21st centuries within their cultural and geographical contexts. Over the semester you will become familiar with the different styles and repertoires of Latin American and Caribbean music, such as the bolero, ranchero, marimba de tecomates, bossa-nova, choro, Latin pop, merengue, nueva canción, wayno, bambuco, rumba, salsa, samba, son, bachata, milonga, and others. We will also study the historical background and social functions of these styles and the relevant composers, performers, and musical instruments of the regions. We will also engage in the discussion of socio-cultural concepts and musical properties relating to ethnomusicology. This course will rely upon audio-visual resources and supplemental materials that will be available on Canvas. Formal musical and anthropological training are not required for this course. You will, however, be invited to use your skills and experiences with music to critically process and apply the material.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Develop appreciation for Latin American and Caribbean music, and its role and relevance to Latin American and Caribbean cultures and society.
- Become familiar with the historical development of music in different regions of Latin America and the Caribbean
- Be able to discuss socio-cultural topics within Latin America and the Caribbean in connection with music

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Acquire a broader, critical, and sensitive understanding of Latin American and Caribbean music
- Be able to identify Latin American and Caribbean musical styles and associate them to specific geographical regions
- Recognize the impact of Latin American and Caribbean music on the development of political and cultural identity
- Be able to think critically about Latin American and Caribbean musics and how these musics are situated regionally and globally, including within communities in the United States

REQUIREMENTS

- Attend all classes - unless excused - and be an active participant in class discussions
- Complete the assigned readings, listenings, and/or viewings
- Take three quizzes during the semester
- Complete 10 discussion posts over the course of the semester

COURSE MATERIALS

Textbook (Required)

Schechter, John M. 1999. Music in Latin American Culture: Regional Traditions. New York: Schirmer Books. The CD (Music in Latin American Culture: Regional Traditions). [*I will provide selected audio samples from the book on Canvas.]

Articles

Additional readings for the semester will be provided on Canvas and/or through the UF Library Online. To access materials through UF Library Online off-campus, you must be logged into the University network VPN with your student login.

Additional Resources

Throughout the semester, you will submit various writing assignments that may require the use of additional scholarly works. These online resources (accessible through the UF Library) may be useful in finding supplemental information for your work:

- JSTOR
- RILM abstracts of music literature
- AFA Library Research guides
- NAXOS Music Library – for access to recordings

LISTENING AND VIEWING

Students are expected to learn and become familiar with various audio/visual examples of Latin American and Caribbean musics. These examples will source either from the textbook or through a provided link. Required audio/visual materials will be available under the “Modules” tab on Canvas and/or accessible through the UF Library. A selection of the examples discussed in class will be asked about in the listening portion of quizzes.

QUIZZES

There will be 3 quizzes for this course. Each of the quizzes will include multiple choice, short answer, essay, and/or identification of listening examples. All quizzes will be taken on Canvas outside of class on a personal or school device. Students may take the quiz at any time on the quiz day, except for Quiz 3, which will be available only during the course final time (December 15, 3-5pm). *Be sure to plan ahead to guarantee access to a device for each quiz! If a student has difficulty accessing a device, be sure to communicate this to the instructor as soon as possible in order to organize accommodations.

*Make-up quizzes will only be allowed for excused absences. Per university policy, excused absences include those for: 1) a medical illness confirmed by a written statement from your physician, 2) a medical emergency in the family confirmed by a written statement from a parent or guardian, 3) an official university activity confirmed by a written statement from a faculty advisor, 4) a religious holiday which you must observe, or 5) military obligations. For excused absences in categories 3 and 4 you must notify the instructor at least two weeks in advance of the absence, and there is no penalty.

DISCUSSION POSTS

Each Friday [except on quiz weeks], students will post a discussion assignment of 300-500 words by 9am. The discussion posts will focus on a specific aspect of the week's topics and provide students the opportunity to think critically and expound upon various cultural and musical topics within Latin America and the Caribbean. Students will be expected to read through their fellow classmates' posts before class on Fridays, as the responses will be incorporated into the class discussion. All discussion posts will be submitted on Canvas under the "Discussions" tab. Students will complete a total of 10 discussion posts over the course of the semester. See the "Discussion Post Guidelines" document under "Files" on Canvas for detailed writing expectations.

ATTENDANCE

Class attendance is required. Two unexcused absences are allowed during the semester. Each additional unexcused absence will result in a grade penalty. [Communication really is key here – if you know you will be late or will miss a class, let me know ASAP – the earlier the better.] Requirements for class attendance and make-up quizzes, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. *The instructor maintains the right to determine whether work may be made up for credit or not due to unexcused absences. Any work missed for a university-approved excused absence can be made up without any grade penalties.

PARTICIPATION

Students are expected to come to class having read, listened to, and/or watched the required materials for the class. Students will engage with the instructor and one another to further investigate and explore the topics. Further, students may be asked to play instruments or dance during class as a way to learn about particular musics in a participatory manner. A student's involvement in the class discussions and activities is an important aspect of the overall learning process for this course.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Attend classes regularly, read the assigned materials, ask questions, and take notes! When reading, listening, and viewing the required assignments, take notes to help you remember important points and musical features. Write down information from the listening and look at your textbook to confirm the songs, author, region, style, and other regional information about your listening. Be sure to refer to the syllabus for assignments, dates, and other information and communicate EARLY if you know of any university approved conflicts with the course schedule.

COMMUNICATION

Email is the best way to stay in contact with me! I do my best to respond to emails within 48hrs. Additionally, if you would like to set up a meeting, you can attend my office hour and/or request a meeting through Zoom.

*This syllabus and course assignments are subject to change as the instructor sees fit. Any changes will be announced in class and confirmed through email. PLEASE make sure that you have your Canvas announcements set to also come into your UF email account so you do not miss any important information.

SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY

Cheating on exams and using someone else's ideas in a written paper without providing proper recognition of the source is plagiarism. As a result of completing the registration form at the University of Florida, every student has signed the following statement: "I understand that the University of Florida expects its students to be honest in all their academic work. I agree to adhere to this commitment to academic honesty and understand that my failure to comply with this commitment may result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion for the University." <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>. Further, UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor for this class. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated – anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing is subject to an automatic E and further disciplinary action. If you are unsure of how to cite something correctly, just ask!

COURSE EVALUATION POLICY

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <http://gatorevals.aaufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <http://ufl/bluera.com/url/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <http://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>

RESOURCES

*Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester. COVID-19 PRACTICES

In response to COVID-19, the following practices are in place to maintain your learning environment, to enhance the safety of our in-classroom interactions, and to further the health and safety of ourselves, our neighbors, and our loved ones.

- * You are expected to wear approved face coverings at all times during class and within buildings even if you are vaccinated. Please continue to follow healthy habits, including best practices like frequent hand washing. Following these practices is our responsibility as Gators.

- * Sanitizing supplies are available in the classroom if you wish to wipe down your desks prior to sitting down and at the end of the class.

- * Hand sanitizing stations will be located in every classroom.

- * If you are sick, stay home and self-quarantine. Please visit the UF Health Screen, Test & Protect website about next steps, retake the questionnaire and schedule your test for no sooner than 24 hours after your symptoms began. Please call your primary care provider if you are ill and need immediate care or the UF Student Health Care Center at 352-392-1161 (or email covid@shcc.ufl.edu <<mailto:covid@shcc.ufl.edu>>) to be evaluated for testing and to receive further instructions about returning to campus. UF Health Screen, Test & Protect offers guidance when you are sick, have been exposed to someone who has tested positive or have tested positive yourself. Visit the UF Health Screen, Test & Protect
